Cockroaches!

Yesterday was a special day. It was Nancy's birthday. Nancy invited her friends to join her birthday party.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Nancy's friends arrived at her house. One of Nancy's friends, Bobby said, “This cake is for you. It is called 'Rainbow Nancy'. I hope you like it.”

Nancy smiled and said, “Thank you very much. What about the cake my parents bought?”

“No problem. We can eat both of them. Let's eat mine first,” Bobby suggested.

“OK,” Nancy replied with a cheerful smile.

Nancy's friends urged Nancy to open Bobby's cake box. Nancy opened the box excitedly. To her surprise, two cockroaches were climbing on the cake. All of Nancy's friends were shocked and looked at Bobby. Bobby laughed as loud as he could.

“Bobby! You put two cockroaches on the cake!” screamed Nancy.

Nancy told Bobby to leave. However, Bobby did not want to. He said, “I'm sorry, Nancy. Please forgive me. I'll never play tricks on others.”

Luckily, Nancy is kind. She said, “Well, never mind. Don't do that again.”

Bobby smiled and suggested, “Thank you. Shall we sing a happy birthday song together and eat the cake your parents bought?”

In the end, Nancy had a very happy birthday party with her friends.
