

The Fly, the Butterfly and the Bee

Long time ago, when the world was first created, all the animals did not have nice "clothes". However, why do they have beautiful colour now, especially the bees and the butterflies? Something must have happened to them.

One day, God wanted someone to help him clean his garden for a week. The three insects, Fly, Bee and Butterfly, promised to help God with the cleaning, starting next Monday.

Monday came, Bee and Butterfly started to clean God's garden. However, how about Fly? Where was he? Bee and Butterfly thought he must have forgotten about it. So, the two of them went to remind him. However, they discovered that he had not really forgotten about it. He was simply being irresponsible. He kept giving excuses, like 'whatever' and 'who cares' when Bee and Butterfly asked him to join their cleaning errand. So, the two insects returned to the garden themselves.

After a week of hard work, God's garden looked much greater than before. While Bee and Butterfly were busy cleaning the garden, Fly spent his time playing in the rubbish dump. When God went to his garden, he could not find Fly. Butterfly and Bee told God what happened. God was furious and steam was fuming above his head. He wanted to teach the irresponsible insect a lesson. So, off he went to the rubbish dump.

God punished Fly by giving him black, dirty clothes and told him to stay in the rubbish dump forever so that he would be hated by everyone. On the other hand, God granted Bee a nice striped black and yellow coat and Butterfly a pair of beautiful, colourful wings.

We should be responsible in everything we commit. Otherwise, you will have a bad reputation and be punished. Who would you want to be? Bee, Butterfly or Fly?
